

Sleepwalking through History

© 2019 C.S. Taber

Sleepwalking through history
Bored out of my mind
Languid and lazy
Just passing the time
Like a bird on a wire
I'm free to fly
But I'm shackled to living
Can't get to the sky

I met you at Woodstock
We danced in the rain
You had such passion
I had cocaine
You were so small
A waif of a girl
But you heard the call
To change the world

Sleepwalking through history
Just dodging the man
Drifting around
Kicking the can
Like a bird on a wire
It's wide open sky
But I'm lacking ambition
Too lazy to fly

I met you at Woodstock
We danced in the rain
You had such passion
I had cocaine
You were so small
A waif of a girl
But you heard the call
To change the world

I met you at Woodstock
We danced in the rain
You had a future
I had cocaine
You were so small
A waif of a girl
But you heard the call
To change the world

Sleepwalking through history
Forty years on
You're still a mystery
You left with the dawn
Like a bird on a wire
I'm free to fly
But I'm lacking the vision
Can't imagine the sky